

Arkansas Innovative Users Group
Arkansas Supreme Court Library
Little Rock, Arkansas
14 November 2005

The meeting was called to order by Chair Susan Goldner (UALR Law). She welcomed 31 attendees and thanked Shawn Pierce and the Arkansas Supreme Court Library for hosting the meeting.

Nathan James, III, presented the new features and a tour of Release 2005.

After the break, Marjorie McLaughlin, Library Sales Consultant with Innovative Interfaces, discussed Symposia, a new product from Ill that can be used to collect, preserve, and distribute digital materials created by an institution, a consortium, or a repository serving as the primary collection agency for public papers.

After lunch, Goldner called the business meeting to order. Participants attending for the first time were introduced:

- Linda Bennett, University of Arkansas Community College at Batesville
- Rick Williams, Pulaski County Special School District
- Tim Nutt, Special Collections, University of Arkansas, Fayetteville

The minutes of the meetings held 3 December 2004 and 6 June 2005 were approved.

Participants discussed the scheduling for the spring 2006 meeting. It was the consensus that the meeting should be held in early June after the Ill conference. A new Vice Chair/Chair Elect will be elected. Goldner thanked Marjorie McLaughlin and Nathan James for attending the meeting and sharing information about new products and features coming from Ill. The business meeting was adjourned.

Nathan James presented a preview of features included in 2006LE.

Participants met in breakout sessions to discuss acquisitions/serials, cataloging, circulation/ILL, systems, and Symposia.

Respectfully submitted,

Jerrie Townsend
Secretary/Treasurer
